Hello organ player,

I have a proposition for you based on my interest of your interpretation of the attached audio recording. If you have come across this letter and are genuinely interested in participating, do as follows: set up with your organ and as you are listening to the digital recording for the first time, play along with it. Playing along is up to your interpretation and does not have any prescribed criteria. Please record your interpretation and send it to me at: chloe.elgie@gmail.com. The recording will not be published anywhere, physically or digitally, without your knowledge. This curiosity is not part of any more grand project or scheme, it is for the moment, a question.

Thank you

Chloe Elgie
